

SourceSuite

System Interfaces & Data Feeds

Our highly configurable SaaS solution minimizes your IT team's involvement while enabling flexibility of integration to enhance the procurement process. We know that keeping important data sets up to date and accessible across multiple platforms can be challenging and costly. Simple integration of your current data feeds, including ERP and accounting systems, with SourceSuite's procurement solution ensures continuity of data across management systems. Contract management, supplier information, bid notification feeds, and financial information can be integrated with a few simple clicks. SourceSuite's Data Feed and ERP Integration further increases the efficiency and transparency within your buying organization.
